Stephen Silas

Head Coach

Stephen Silas was named the 14th head coach in Houston Rockets history on Nov. 1, 2020 following 19 seasons as an assistant coach. His first stint as an assistant came with the original Charlotte Hornets in 2000-01. At the time, Silas was the youngest assistant coach in the league at 27.

In 2021-22, the Rockets entered the season with five players 19 or younger. Houston won seven in a row from Nov. 24 through Dec. 8 after losing 15 straight prior. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, that was the longest winning streak across the four major sports by a team which lost at least 15 games immediately prior. The Rockets finished with a 20-62 mark but were 9-11 in games in which Silas had his preferred starting lineup of Eric Gordon, Jalen Green, Kevin Porter Jr., Jae'Sean Tate, and Christian Wood available.

Houston posted a 17-55 mark in 2020-21, with Silas using 43 different starting lineups while using an NBA record 30 players. Prior to losing starting center Christian Wood for 17 games from Feb. 6 through March 16 with an ankle injury, the Rockets had won seven of eight games and were 11-10. For the season, Houston had players miss a total of 377 games.

When Silas joined Rick Carlisle's staff in Dallas in 2018-19, he was tasked with helping improve their offense. In 2019-20, Dallas recorded the highest offensive rating in NBA history. Prior to joining Dallas, Silas spent eight seasons with Charlotte, including as their associate head coach in 2017-18. As a member of Steve Clifford's staff in 2015-16, Silas helped the Hornets post their highest win total over the past 18 seasons.

Silas spent four-and-a-half seasons as an assistant Coach with Golden State from 2006-10 and worked with Hall of Fame coach and offensive guru Don Nelson. In the First Round of the 2007 playoffs, the eighth-seeded Warriors upended the first-seeded Mavericks, who posted a league-best 67 wins. Silas was also on Golden State's staff during Stephen Curry's first season and a half in the NBA.

After graduating from Brown University in 1996, where he played four seasons for the Bears basketball team, Silas spent three years as the assistant director of the National Basketball Retired Players Association. He then became a scout with Charlotte in 1999 before eventually joining his father Paul Silas' coaching staff with the Hornets. In 2003-04 Paul became head coach of Cleveland with Stephen serving as an assistant coach for two seasons, coinciding with the start of LeBron James' career.

Clutch "The Rockets Bear"

Now in his 28th season as the Rockets mascot, Clutch the Bear is one of the most celebrated mascots in sports.

Clutch is HOUSTON'S #1 FAN and can be seen cheering on his team at all Rockets home games and at countless community events throughout the city of Houston.

Whether he is creating impromptu comedy, throwing around cakes, shooting silly string, signing autographs, dancing with the Clutch City Dancers, doling out hugs, performing on-court skits, dancing and pulling pranks on social media, or climbing ladders and doing flips, Clutch is always a fan favorite.

When Clutch isn't entertaining fans at Toyota Center, he is visiting fans all over Houston and around the world, having performed across the U.S. and internationally in thirteen countries. Clutch was named the first-ever NBA Mascot of the Year in 2005, again in 2013, and was also awarded the crown in 2021! He was also inducted into the Mascot Hall of Fame in 2006. Keep your eye out for this fun-loving, entertaining bear!

Clutch City Dancers

Formerly known as the "Rockets Power Dancers", The Clutch City Dancers have long been fan favorites at Rockets games and in the Greater Houston area for their tremendous energy, hard-hitting routines and love for the game. This world-class group of dancers has inspired Rockets fans since the 1994-95 season. The team is composed of business professionals and students who perform at all home games and at numerous community, corporate and private events. The dancers, along with Rockets players and staff, also contribute to and attend community events that make a difference in the lives of those in our community. The dancers have been proud to represent the Rockets at multiple NBA All-Star Games, as well as at international events throughout mainland China, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Taiwan, Bosnia, Kosovo, the United Kingdom and Spain. These versatile ladies have been featured on SportsCenter, CNN, Fox and FSN, as well as in Sports Illustrated, Maxim and Complex magazines. The Clutch City Dancers are led by Director of Entertainment Natalie Alvarado. This former seven-year member of the Rockets Power Dancers also toured the nation as a music performer with Universal Records. Her self-titled debut album "Natalie" premiered at No. 16 on the Billboard Top-200 Charts.

Rockets Launch Crew

The Rockets Launch Crew took off in 2004-05 and hasn't looked back. This group of talented tumblers, break dancers, pop-lockers and cheer stunts are the best in the business. You can see them performing explosive routines, throwing t-shirts to fans and helping with on-court contests, all while bringing their special brand of spirit. The Launch Crew team members show their skills at home games, performing during timeouts and energizing the crowd at key moments in the game. They also make numerous community and corporate appearances throughout the year. Launch Crew is often invited to represent the Rockets at the NBA All-Star Games. The crew has also represented Rockets Entertainment at the 2013-14 Global Games in the Philippines and Taiwan, as well as 2019-20 games in Hawaii and Japan. In 2013, the Launch Crew was named, "The Best Entertainment Team in Sports" by Gameops.com.

Rockets Little Dippers

The Little Dippers are the cutest addition to Rockets game entertainment. This co-ed squad of talented kids, ages 6-11, debuted in 2006-07 and was an immediate hit. The group of all-star kids from all over Houston perform hip-hop and novelty dance routines at weekend and special games throughout the year. Their energetic performances include tumbling, stunting and break dancing which always bring the crowd to its feet. The Little Dippers love to participate in the Rockets game experience and also perform at community events.

Rockets Space City Seniors

The Space City Seniors are another great performance group for the Rockets. Consisting of several "young at heart" retirees, these seniors wow Toyota Center crowds on a regular basis with their current and old-school hip hop moves. Their high energy and enthusiasm for dance and the Rockets are unmatched in the NBA.

Sonic Boom Drumline

The Sonic Boom Drumline is the newest and loudest Entertainment Group of the Houston Rockets. It is comprised of snare, bass, tenor drums and cymbals. The Sonic Boom Drumline can be heard performing within the arena during pregame, halftime & postgame, and their on-court performances are loud and entertaining. Whether it's standing alone as a unit or providing an explosive beat for the other Entertainment Groups, they never fail to bring the boom.

Anti-Gravity

The Rockets Dunk Team, Anti-Gravity, was introduced to Rockets entertainment in 2010. This powerful and explosive group of trampoline dunkers consists of gymnasts and performers who perform during quarter breaks at selective home games. They bring the energy and never cease to amaze the fans of Toyota Center with their one-of-a-kind acrobatic dunks. Many of the Anti-Gravity members travel from city to city as professional dunkers, and even circus entertainers, who have appeared on the infamous TV show, America's Got Talent. Anti-Gravity performs at community and corporate events throughout the season.

Clutch City Foundation

Established by former Rockets Owner Leslie Alexander in 1995, the Clutch City Foundation provides hope, help and inspiration for those who might otherwise be forgotten. The Clutch City Foundation serves as the umbrella organization for all Rockets community initiatives. Through the foundation, Rockets players, coaches and staff participate in a myriad of programs for those who are in need; especially children. Since its inception, the Clutch Foundation has raised over $15 million for those in need here in Houston and throughout the world.

Rockets Give Back Program

Houston Rockets and Toyota Center employees take part in the Rockets Give Back Program by volunteering with our community partners. Last season, over 1,200 volunteer hours were spent serving homeless families, assisting in food pantries, delivering meals to children, providing gifts for children during the holidays, playing basketball and video games with youth – just to name a few projects.

Hoops for Troops

Each season, Rockets players, legends and members of the military host a joint community service project that benefits a local non-profit. The annual initiative is a part of Hoops for Troops, a partnership between the NBA and the Department of Defense where teams work alongside military personnel on projects that improve their community.

A Season of Giving Presented by Kroger

During the holiday season, Rockets players, coaches and staff host a series of events for members of the community who are less fortunate. Each year, hundreds of children and their families are the recipients of private parties, gifts and surprise visits by players.

Heroes Program

During the season, the Rockets recognize men and women who commit their lives to serving others. The Heroes Program honors members of the armed forces, police and fire departments, and people from all walks of life who contribute to make Houston a world-class city. Honorees and their guests are hosted in the Heroes Suite during the game and are recognized on-court for their contributions.

In Arena 50/50 Raffle

The Rockets are excited to host the 50/50 Raffle for the 4th year. Implemented at every home game during the regular season, as well as playoffs. The 50-50 raffle has raised over 1.8 million dollars. Again this season, one lucky fan will win 50% of net proceeds raised each night, with the other 50% going to the Clutch City Foundation.

First Shot

Prior to every home game, a featured celebrity or local personality is given the opportunity to shoot one free throw, with a made attempt earning $5,000 for the Clutch City Foundation. If the First Shot is missed, Rockets owner Tilman Fertitta still donates $1,000 as part of the team's commitment to give back to the community.

Patriot Day of Service

Each year on Patriots Day, the Rockets host a companywide service initiative to mark the heroic sacrifices made by first responders on September 11. Rockets players, executive team, and more than 100 staff honor members of the Houston Police Department and Houston Fire Departments by personally visiting each location. As a show of gratitude and appreciation, the group delivers tickets and t-shirts to each of the police and fire stations. The past two years, the Rockets also held a luncheon at Toyota Center for members from local police and fire departments along with military personnel who had tours of duty in the Middle East.

Grassroots Basketball

Rockets grassroots basketball programs provide opportunities and resources for youth to remain active and physically fit by participating in basketball related activities. From camps, to clinics, to leagues, hundreds of children each year enroll in Rockets year-round grassroots basketball programs.

Boys & Girls Clubs Best Shot Program Presented by Toyota

The Rockets and Toyota are proud to encourage youth to always give their very best effort. Through the Best Shot Program, more than 1000 students participate in a 10-week basketball league, which also includes academic tutoring, cultural awareness workshops and drug prevention courses.

Be Fit Challenge with Memorial Hermann

The Rockets and Memorial Hermann reward children who make nutritious eating and regular exercise a daily habit, as well as encourage parents to become involved in their children's healthy lifestyles. The Be Fit Challenge is implemented in Houston schools and provides children with nutritional and activity tips. It also includes a Be Fit game where students can win Rockets prizes. Additionally, one school is rewarded with an exciting Be Fit Rally, starring Rockets entertainment and Memorial Hermann fitness and nutrition experts.

Grassroots Education

The Rockets are committed to partnering with local school districts and education experts to help improve student academic performance. Therefore, the Rockets implement educational programs in collaboration with school administrators and educators that are designed around existing school curriculum.

Rockets Read Nation Presented by Whataburger

The Rockets and Whataburger are proud to present the Read Nation program to elementary students throughout Greater Houston. The program is designed to promote the value and fun of reading. Participating students are rewarded with prizes and have the opportunity to host reading timeouts at their school.

Money Talks

The Houston Rockets "Money Talks" initiative is a financial literacy program. This series emphasizes the importance of financial education and is focused on the engagement of Houston-area high school juniors and seniors. The series features candid conversations about money focusing on personal financial growth, including challenges, as well as anecdotes for successfully managing money. These sessions will also feature financial tips and resources showing students how to start making smart money decisions now. Students will learn about saving, budgeting and investing, as well as how to intelligently handle money for their future.

Math Hoops

More than 2500 students in grades 4-8 participate in Math Hoops, a basketball-themed board game and curriculum that help improve math and problem-solving skills, while having fun learning with their peers. Students "draft" their favorite Rockets players and other NBA/WNBA players, while gaining an understanding of statistics, and learning the importance of teamwork and good sportsmanship.

Green Initiatives

Toyota Center and the Houston Rockets are leaders in the Houston community on environmental best practices and aim to drive community activation on environmentally responsible behavior changes. In 2010, Toyota Center became the first professional sports facility in Texas to receive a LEED Certification, earning LEED Silver for existing buildings: Operations and Maintenance. Environmentally friendly practices include the following: recycling paper, cardboard, plastic and aluminum from employee/office spaces, as well as patrons attending events; toilet paper, soap and hand towels throughout the building are EPA and Green Seal certified; efficient hand towel and soap dispensers; motion light sensors in offices make Toyota Center more energy efficient; Controlled Building Automation System; Integrated Pest Management; compact fluorescent lighting throughout the venue; and food containers at concession stands are biodegradable.

Team "green" events have included tree plantings, litter control participation and clean ups in the community. The team also host an annual recycling event for electronics (i.e. televisions, computers and components), as well as an annual "Environmental Awareness" Game in which a "green" item is distributed to patrons and eco-friendly organizations educate patrons on "going green."

Green programs include PSAs at each home game promoting environmental best practice factoids, working with an energy provider to increase renewable credits of energy procurement, paperless ticketing at all events to Toyota Center, and the "Green Team of the Game," where local youth groups help collect recyclable items during a home game and are recognized as the "Green Team of the Game" presented by Republic Services.

NBA Cares

NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility program that builds on the NBA's mission of addressing important social issues. NBA Cares programs and participants have provided more than 6.2 million hours of hands-on service and created more than 2,042 places where kids and families can live, learn or play in communities around the world. Internationally, NBA Cares has created more than 375 places where kids and families can live, learn or play in 40 countries and territories. NBA Cares works with nationally and internationally recognized youth-serving programs that support education, youth and family development, and health-related causes, including: Boys & Girls Clubs of America, Vera Institute of Justice, Thurgood Marshall College Fund, UNICEF, Special Olympics, The Jed Foundation, Share Our Strength and GLSEN.

History of the Rockets

The Rockets franchise entered the NBA as the San Diego Rockets prior to the 1967-68 season, along with the Seattle SuperSonics, as the league expanded to 12 teams. The Rockets received their team name because it kept with San Diego's then-theme of a "city in motion," while reflecting the growth of space-age industries in San Diego. The 1967-68 Rockets compiled a league-worst 15-67 record, but were able to select University of Houston's Elvin Hayes with the first overall pick in the 1968 NBA Draft. As a rookie, Hayes scored an NBA-leading 28.4 points per game, helping the team to a 37-45 record and a playoff berth. The Rockets drafted Rudy Tomjanovich and Calvin Murphy in the 1970 NBA Draft, but were unable to produce a winning record in any of their four seasons in San Diego.

In June 1971, a group named Texas Sports Investments bought the Rockets franchise for $5.6 million and moved the team to Houston. During their first year in Texas, the Rockets played home games in Houston, San Antonio and Waco. The 1974-75 Rockets produced the franchise's first season at .500 or better and first playoff series win.

On Oct. 24, 1976, the Rockets acquired Moses Malone from the Buffalo Braves in exchange for a pair of future first round picks. That season the Rockets finished with a 49-33 mark, won their first division title, and advanced to the Conference Finals with Tom Nissalke earning Coach of the Year honors.

Following a disappointing campaign in 1977-78, the Rockets won 47 games in 1978-79, with Malone, Murphy, and Tomjanovich all making the All-Star game. Malone averaged 24.8 points and an NBA-high 17.6 rebounds that season to earn the first of his two MVP's as a Rocket.

The 1980-81 Rockets qualified for the playoffs during the final weekend of the season and finished with a 40-42 mark. Despite a sub-.500 record, the Rockets advanced to their first-ever NBA Finals, losing in six games to Boston. It marked the first time a team from Houston played for the championship in basketball, football, or baseball. Murphy set NBA records by hitting 78 consecutive free throws and finishing the season with a free throw percentage of .958.

Despite Malone winning his second MVP award in 1981-82, the Rockets lost in the First Round of the playoffs. That summer, Malone was traded to Philadelphia and the Rockets won a total of 43 games over the next two seasons; however, the Rockets obtained the first overall pick in both the 1983 and 1984 drafts and selected 7-foot-4 Ralph Sampson and 7-foot Akeem Olajuwon from the University of Houston.

Sampson was named Rookie of the Year in 1983-84, while Olajuwon finished second in balloting to Michael Jordan a year later. The 1984-85 Rockets compiled a 48-34 record during Sampson's and Olajuwon's first season together, but were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs. The following year, the Rockets rolled to a 51-31 record, won the Midwest Division, and upset the defending NBA Champion L.A. Lakers to advance to the NBA Finals, where the team fell to Boston for the second time in six years.

The Rockets were knocked out of the First Round of the playoffs in four straight seasons from 1987-88 through 1990-91. After a 26-26 start to the 1991-92 season, Tomjanovich was promoted from assistant coach to interim head coach and was named the permanent coach at the end of the season.

The Rockets flourished under Tomjanovich, winning 55 games in his first full season as coach in 1992-93. Olajuwon finished second in MVP voting that season but earned the first of four straight All-NBA First Team selections.

On July 30, 1993, Leslie Alexander purchased the Rockets and Houston proceeded to win its first 15 games of the 1993-94 season. The Rockets finished with 58 wins and claimed the division title, with Olajuwon earning MVP honors and his second straight Defensive Player of the Year award. After the Rockets lost the first two games of the Conference Semifinals at home to Phoenix, a local paper posted the headline "Choke City," but Houston rallied to win the series and advanced to the NBA Finals against New York. Following a grueling seven-game series, the Rockets were rewarded with the first-ever professional championship for a sports team from Houston. Olajuwon earned Finals MVP honors, becoming the first player to win that award while being named both regular season MVP and Defensive Player of the Year in the same season.

The Rockets displayed a bit of championship hangover in 1994-95, but the acquisition of future hall of famer Clyde Drexler via trade from Portland in February gave Houston new life. Despite being the sixth-seed in the Western Conference, the Rockets went on to sweep Orlando in the NBA Finals, becoming the lowest seed to win the title and the fifth franchise in league history to win back-to-back titles. Houston was also the first team to eliminate four teams in the playoffs that had won 50-plus regular season games.

During the 1995-96 season, Olajuwon became the NBA's all-time blocked shots leader and Tomjanovich became the franchise's all-time winningest coach. The Rockets added Charles Barkley in August of 1996 and advanced to the 1997 Western Conference Finals. Prior to the start of the lockout shortened 1998-99 season,

History of the Rockets

Houston acquired Scottie Pippen from Chicago, but the Rockets were eliminated in the First Round and did not make the playoffs in any of the next four seasons from 1999-00 through 2002-03.

The Rockets won the 2002 NBA Draft Lottery, despite having the fifth-best odds to do so, and selected 7-foot-6 Yao Ming from China. Yao was voted a starter in the All-Star Game, the first of his eight All-Star selections. Following Yao's rookie season, Tomjanovich stepped down as head coach, having accumulated a franchise record 503 wins.

On June 11, 2003, Jeff Van Gundy became the 10th head coach in Rockets history. In Van Gundy's first season, the Rockets moved into their new home Toyota Center, set several defensive records and returned to the playoffs for the first time in five years. On June 29, 2004, Houston acquired Tracy McGrady, in a seven-player deal. In his inaugural season as a Rocket, McGrady helped the Rockets to their first 50-win season since 1996-97.

Toyota Center was the site of the 2006 NBA All-Star Game, marking the first time the Rockets hosted the event since 1989 at the Astrodome. Yao was the leading vote-getter for the All-Star Game, while McGrady scored a game-high 36 points.

Daryl Morey was named the Rockets Assistant General Manager on April 3, 2006 and spearheaded the acquisition of Shane Battier from the Memphis Grizzlies that summer. That move helped catapult the Rockets to 52 wins, despite Yao being limited to 48 games played due to injury. Morey officially assumed his role as General Manager at the conclusion of the season, following the retirement of Carroll Dawson, who was honored with a banner that hangs next to the retired jersey numbers in franchise history. One of Morey's first moves was to name Rick Adelman as the head coach.

In his first season with the Rockets in 2007-08, Houston posted a 55-27 mark, including a franchise-record 22 straight wins from Jan. 29 through March 16. Yao underwent season-ending surgery in early March, and the Rockets were eliminated in the First Round of the playoffs. On April 11, the Rockets honored Olajuwon by unveiling a bronze sculpture, which stands out front the main entrance of Toyota Center.

The following season, Houston won 53 games and pushed the eventual champion L.A. Lakers to Game 7 of the Western Conference Finals, despite being without McGrady for the entire postseason and Yao for the final four games of the series.

Yao missed all of 2009-10 due to foot surgery, but the Rockets still finished above .500 with a 42-40 mark. McGrady was traded to New York as part of a three-team trade in February. Aaron Brooks was named the NBA's Most Improved Player.

Injuries limited Yao to just five games played in 2010-11 and he announced his retirement on July 20, 2011. Kevin McHale became the 12th head coach in franchise history on June 1, 2011 and the Rockets posted a 34-32 mark in the lockout shortened 2011-12 campaign.

On Oct. 27, 2012, Houston made a blockbuster deal to acquire James Harden from Oklahoma City. The Rockets won 45 games and returned to the playoffs after a three-year absence. Harden was selected to his first All-Star Game, which was hosted by the Rockets.

In July of 2013, the Rockets acquired three-time NBA Defensive Player of the Year Dwight Howard via free agency. The tandem of Harden and Howard helped lead Houston to a 54-28 mark in 2013-14 along with another trip to the playoffs. Both players were named All-Stars with Harden also earning All-NBA First Team honors while Howard was selected to the Second Team.

The Rockets won 56 games in 2014-15 and advanced to the Western Conference Finals for the first time since 1996-97. Harden earned All-NBA First Team honors for the second straight season and was runner-up for the MVP award.

After posting a 41-41 mark in 2015-16, Houston bounced back in 2016-17, winning 55 games under Mike D'Antoni, who was named Coach of the Year in his first season with the Rockets. James Harden was a unanimous All-NBA First Team selection while free agent acquisition Eric Gordon was named Sixth Man of the Year.

On October 6, 2017, the NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved Tilman J. Fertitta as the new owner of the Rockets. Houston won a franchise record 65 games in 2017-18 and posted the best record in the NBA for the first time in team history. The Rockets advanced to the Western Conference Finals, pushing the eventual champion Golden State Warriors to Game 7. Harden was a unanimous All-NBA First Team selection and became the third player in franchise history to be named MVP. Daryl Morey became the second Rockets employee to win the NBA Executive of the Year award.

Houston lost 14 of its first 25 games in 2018-19 but rallied to go 42-15 over the final 57 games and advanced to the Conference Semifinals. James Harden became the first player in NBA history to have averaged at least 35.0 points and 7.0 assists in a single season and earned his third straight unanimous All-NBA First Team selection.

On July 16, 2019, the Rockets acquired eight-time All-Star and former MVP Russell Westbrook via trade with Oklahoma City. After play was suspended in March due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Houston was one of 22 teams invited to the NBA Restart in Orlando and advanced to the Conference Semifinals. James Harden earned First Team All-NBA honors while Westbrook was named Third Team.

A new era for the Rockets began on Nov. 5, 2020 with the introduction of General Manager Rafael Stone and head coach Stephen Silas. The Rockets battled injuries throughout the 2020-21 season and used an NBA record 30 different players. Undrafted rookie Jae'Sean Tate was named to the All-Rookie First Team.

The Rockets entered 2021-22 with five players 19 or younger, including four who were chosen within the first 24 picks of the 2021 NBA Draft. Jalen Green, who was the second overall pick, earned All-Rookie First Team honors.

Houston's native son, Clyde Drexler, originally gained fame with Hakeem Olajuwon on "Phi Slama Jama" at the University of Houston. Over a decade later, "The Glide" returned to his hometown to team up with "The Dream" to deliver the Rockets second consecutive NBA Championship.

On Feb. 14, 1995, Drexler was traded to Houston with Tracy Murray for Otis Thorpe and the rights to Marcelo Nicola on Feb. 14, 1995. In 35 regular season games with Houston during the 1994-95 season, Drexler averaged 21.4 points on .506 shooting with 7.0 rebounds. Drexler's value soared higher for the Rockets in the 1995 NBA Playoffs, when he served as the Rockets second-leading scorer during their second consecutive championship run. Drexler averaged 20.5 points, 7.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists in 22 playoff games for Houston, as the Rockets became the first-ever sixth seed to win an NBA title. In Houston's 1995 NBA Finals sweep of Shaquille O'Neal and the Orlando Magic, Drexler posted averages of 21.5 points, 9.5 rebounds and 6.8 assists.

Following the Rockets championship run of 1995, Drexler signed a contract extension to play with Houston for three more seasons. He became the 24th player in NBA history to register 20,000 career points on Nov. 24, 1996, at the L.A. Lakers. That same season he earned selection to the NBA's 50th Anniversary All-Time Team during the 1997 NBA All-Star Weekend. On Feb. 16, 1998, Drexler joined John Havlicek and Oscar Robertson as the only players in NBA history to collect 20,000 points, 6,000 rebounds and 6,000 assists in a career. In his final season with the Rockets, Drexler teamed with Houston Comets guard Cynthia Cooper to win the first-ever All-Star 2ball competition during the 1998 All-Star Weekend.

In 219 games with the Rockets, Drexler averaged 19.0 points, 6.1 rebounds, 5.4 assists and 1.88 steals. In Rockets history, his scoring average ranks tied for ninth all-time, his 363 3-pointers rank 11th and his 1,072 3-pointers attempted rank 10th. Drexler will best be remembered for his playoff performances with the Rockets, as he averaged 18.6 points, 6.5 rebounds and 4.9 assists in 51 playoff games with Houston. In Rockets playoff history, he stands tied for second in 3-pointers attempted, third in 3-pointers made, third in free throws made and attempted, sixth in scoring average, fourth in steals, fourth in assists, fourth in points, fifth in field goals made and attempted, seventh in rebounds, and ninth in blocks. Drexler teamed with Olajuwon to become the third teammate duo in NBA playoff history to each reach 40 points in the same game when he scored 41 points in Game Four of the 1995 Western Conference First Round vs. Utah.

After leading the Rockets in scoring during the 1997-98 season, Drexler retired from the NBA with career averages of 20.4 points, 6.1 rebounds, 5.6 assists and 2.03 steals in 15 seasons with Portland and Houston. He ranks 28th in NBA history with 22,195 career points and seventh with 2,207 career steals. Before being traded to Houston, Drexler played for 11-and-a-half seasons in Portland, leaving as the Blazers all-time leader in games played, minutes played, scoring, field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted, total rebounds, offensive rebounds and steals. He was named to the All-NBA First Team in 1992 and played on the gold-medal-winning "Dream Team" in the Olympics following that season. He received both All-NBA Second-Team (1988, 1991) and Third-Team (1990, 1995) honors twice. He was also named to the Rockets 1990s All-Decade Team. The 10-time NBA All-Star collected 25 career triple-doubles, with his last seven coming with the Rockets. Drexler participated in the playoffs in every year he played, placing him among the all-time NBA leaders in postseasons played. He reached the NBA Finals three times, as his Blazers lost to Detroit in 1990 and Chicago in 1992 before he won with the Rockets. His NBA Finals scoring average of 24.5 points per game ranks 11th in NBA history. He ranks 24th among all-time NBA career playoff scorers with 2,963 points.

Prior to entering the NBA, Drexler averaged 14.4 points and 9.9 rebounds per game in three seasons at the University of Houston. He teamed with Olajuwon and Larry Micheaux to form the "Phi Slama Jama" frontcourt that led the Cougars to the NCAA Final Four in 1982 and 1983. Drexler finished as Houston's all-time leader in steals with 268 career thefts. He had his #22 retired by the University of Houston along with Olajuwon's #34 in February 1997. Following his NBA career, Drexler served as the head coach at the University of Houston, as an assistant coach for the Denver Nuggets and as a broadcaster for the Rockets.

Regarded as the City of Houston's original basketball superstar, Elvin Hayes translated his dominance on the collegiate level immediately into the professional ranks and helped pave the way for the San Diego Rockets transition to Houston.

A Louisiana native, Hayes joined Don Chaney in 1965 as the first Black players on the University of Houston's men's basketball roster. Hayes dominated during his three seasons with the Cougars, averaging 31.0 points and 17.2 rebounds. He led Houston to the Final Four in each of his final two seasons while earning consensus first-team All-American honors in addition to being named the Associated Press Player of the Year as a senior.

During his senior season in 1968, Hayes had 39 points and 15 rebounds in a 71-69 upset win against Lew Alcindor (later Kareem Abdul-Jabbar) and UCLA, snapping the Bruins 47-game winning streak. The rare nationally televised regular season game was played in front of over 52,000 fans at the Houston Astrodome and became known as the "Game of the Century." The success of the broadcast is praised for legitimizing the sports' potential on television and laying the groundwork for the future success of the NCAA Tournament and the evolution of March Madness.

Following his career with the Cougars, Hayes was selected with the first overall pick by the Rockets in the 1968 NBA Draft. The team had recently completed its inaugural season as a franchise in San Diego.

Hayes averaged a league-high 28.4 points in his first season and is still the last rookie to have led the NBA in scoring. The Rockets moved to Houston after his third season, with Hayes' presence in the city credited as an influential factor in the switch.

Unfortunately, the Rockets missed the playoffs for a third straight season and Hayes was traded to the Baltimore Bullets in June of 1972. In his first four seasons as a Rocket, Hayes averaged 27.4 points and 16.3 rebounds.

With the Bullets, Hayes teamed with future Hall of Famer Wes Unseld to form one of the more formidable frontcourts in NBA history. The duo helped the Washington franchise reach three Finals, including its first and only championship in 1978.

After nine seasons with the Bullets, Hayes was reacquired by Houston in June of 1981 and spent his final three seasons as a Rocket. He retired as a 38-year-old, but not before logging 88 minutes over the final two games of the 1983-84 season to give him exactly 50,000 minutes played for his career.

At the time of his retirement, Hayes was the NBA's all-time leader in minutes played and games played (1,303). He never played fewer than 80 games in a single season, missing a total of nine games across 16 seasons.

Hayes also finished his career ranked third in NBA history in both scoring (27,313 points) and rebounding (16,279) and still ranks 11th and fourth, respectively.

For his career, Hayes averaged 21.0 points and 12.5 rebounds. He joins Elgin Baylor, Wilt Chamberlain, and Bob Pettit as the only players in NBA history with career averages of 21.0 points and 12.0 rebounds.

Hayes was a 12-time All-Star and was named All-NBA First Team three times, All-NBA Second Team three times, and All-Defensive Team Second Team twice.

"The Big E" was named one of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA history in 1996 and to the NBA's 75th Anniversary Team in 2021. He was enshrined into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in 1990 and the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame's founding class in 2006.

Hayes also had his number retired by Washington, putting him on a short list of NBA players who have their number retired by multiple teams. In addition, his No. 44 hangs in the rafters of the University of Houston's Fertitta Center.

The fifth-leading rebounder and eighth-leading scorer in NBA history, Moses Malone is a legend that not only made a big impact on the game of basketball, but left a lasting impression with the City of Houston. A two-time NBAMVP in Houston, Malone averaged 24.0 points and a franchise-record 15.0 rebounds in six seasons with the Rockets. Malone also set the franchise single-season record for points in 1982 and rebounds in 1979. Malone was honored for his accomplishments in 2001 with his induction into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

"When you look back over the 25 years that I played, the game did me good," Malone said following his selection to the Hall of Fame. "The opportunity to be an All-Star for so many years, to be one of the 50 greatest players and then to get the call to be in the Hall of Fame."

After being named Parade High School Player of the Year in Petersburg, Virginia, Malone bypassed college and went directly into the American Basketball Association (ABA), playing with the Utah Stars and the St. Louis Spirits from 1974-76. Malone found himself on the Buffalo Braves roster when the ABA merged with the NBA in 1976. However, Malone only played two games with the Braves before he was sent to the Rockets on Oct. 24, 1976, in exchange for two first-round draft picks. During his first NBA season, Malone averaged 13.2 points and 13.1 rebounds, leading the league in offensive rebounds.

During the 1978-79 season, Malone won his first of three NBA MVP awards by averaging 24.8 points and a league-best 17.6 rebounds per game. The 1978-79 season also marked the first of four consecutive years in which Malone led Houston in points, rebounds and blocked shots.

Malone and his Rockets teammates made history together during the 1980-81 season as the second team ever to win a conference championship and reach the NBA Finals with a losing record. Despite Malone averaging 27.8 points and 14.8 rebounds per game in the 1980-81 season, most people didn't expect the Rockets to get past the first round with a 40-42 regular season record. However, the Rockets upset the reigning NBA Champion Lakers in the first round. Despite the Rockets inspired play in the playoffs, they fell to Larry Bird and the Celtics in the 1981 NBA Finals.

Malone averaged 31.1 points and a league-leading 14.7 rebounds en route to his second MVP award in the 1981-82 season. During that season, he set Rockets records with 13 consecutive 30-point games and three consecutive 40-point games.

On Sept. 15, 1982, Malone was traded to the Philadelphia 76ers in exchange for Caldwell Jones and their 1983 first-round draft pick. Malone claimed MVP honors for the regular season and the NBA Finals in his first season with the 76ers, teaming with Julius Erving to win the NBA title for Philadelphia.

After leaving Houston, Malone played 13 more seasons, including stints with Philadelphia, Washington, Atlanta, Milwaukee and San Antonio. He retired in 1995 with 29,580 points and 17,834 rebounds in 1,455 ABA and NBA games, ranking seventh all-time in major league points and third all-time in rebounds.

Calvin Murphy enjoyed one of the greatest moments of his life on May 10, 1993, when he was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

"My only dream was that I wanted to start for my high school basketball team, the Norwalk High School Bears," said Murphy, who played his entire 13-year NBA career with the Rockets from 1970-83. "Going to the Hall of Fame was beyond my wildest dreams."

Murphy became the first Hall of Famer to play his entire career with the Rockets, as he averaged 17.9 points and 4.4 assists in 1,002 career games. In 2012, he was named to the Rockets 1970s All-Decade Team. He still ranks seventh on the all-time NBA free throw percentage list at .892. In 1980-81, Murphy posted a free throw percentage of .958 (206-215 FT), which was the NBA single-season record until Jose Calderon of Toronto hit .981 (151-154 FT) from the line in 2008-09. During Murphy's 1980-81 campaign, he also set a then-NBA record by making 78 consecutive free throws from Dec. 27-Feb. 20, which stood for over a decade until Micheal Williams of Minnesota made 84 straight at the end of the 1992-93 season.

The 5-foot-9 Murphy, who scored 17,949 career points, stands with Avery Johnson as the only two players under six feet to play in 1,000 NBA games. Murphy still owns the Rockets career record with 4,402 assists and holds the eighth best field goal percentage (.482) among NBA guards who have scored at least 15,000 points.

Murphy led the NBA in free throw percentage twice (1980-81, 1982-83) and finished among the top five in nine other seasons. Murphy, Ray Allen, Rick Barry, Chauncey Billups, Reggie Miller, Steve Nash and Mark Price are the only players in league history to have shot .900 or better from the line in six or more seasons.

Murphy stands with Hakeem Olajuwon and Kevin Martin as the only Rockets to rank in the NBA top-10 in four statistical categories in one season, as the Rockets guard accomplished this feat during the 1973-74 season. That year, Murphy ranked second in the NBA with 7.4 assists per game, fourth with a field goal percentage of .522, sixth with a free throw percentage of .868 and ninth with 1.94 steals per game. He also finished that season ranked 19th among scoring leaders with 20.4 points per game.

The San Diego Rockets selected Murphy in the second round in 1970 with the 18th overall pick. The former Niagara University star went on to earn NBA All-Rookie First-Team honors (other First-Team members: Pete Maravich, Bob Lanier, Dave Cowens and Geoff Petrie) and finish fourth in the Rookie of the Year balloting.

Murphy's best year came during the 1977-78 season, when he ranked fifth in the NBA with a career-high 25.6 points per game. He reached 30 points 23 times and scored 40 points three times during that year, including the Rockets single-game scoring record of 57 points vs. New Jersey on March 18, 1978. Murphy averaged better than 20 points in five of 13 seasons, including three consecutive years from 1977-80. In a season, he led the Rockets in points twice, assists three times, steals five times and free throw percentage 10 times.

A 1979 NBA All-Star, Murphy had one of the most brilliant careers in NCAA Division I history. He was a three-time consensus All-American (First Team 1969 and 1970, Second Team 1968). Murphy averaged 33.1 points in 77 games – still the fourth-best average in Division I history (44.2 by Pete Maravich of LSU, 34.6 by Austin Carr of Notre Dame, 33.8 by Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati). His 68 points on Dec. 7, 1968 vs. Syracuse is still the third-best mark against a Division I opponent. Only five players in NCAA history averaged more points in a season than Murphy, who scored 38.2 points per game during the 1967-68 season. He scored 30 or more points in 42 of the 77 games he played for Niagara, reaching 40 points on 19 occasions and 50 points six times.

Murphy averaged double figures in points during every season he played organized basketball, spanning from high school to the NBA. Following his retirement as a player, he has worked with the Rockets organization as an assistant coach, a broadcaster and a community services advisor.

For two decades, Hakeem "The Dream" Olajuwon dedicated himself to winning for the City of Houston. By the end of his career, he had secured his place among the most legendary icons in sports. The NBA's all-time blocked shots leader brought Houston its first major sports championships by leading the Rockets to back-to-back NBA Championships in 1994 and 1995. In 2001, Olajuwon finished his 17-year career with the Rockets as the franchise's all-time leader in 26 regular season and postseason statistical categories.

Rockets Owner Leslie Alexander honored Olajuwon for his many contributions to the Rockets organization with the unveiling of a commissioned bronze sculpture in front of Toyota Center during a special ceremony on April 11, 2008.

Inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2008, Olajuwon also received several honors during his tenure with the Rockets. Upon entering the league, he was named to the NBA All-Rookie Team with Michael Jordan and Charles Barkley in 1985. Over the next 14 years, he was selected to All-NBA First Team six times (1987-89, 1993-94, 1997), Second Team three times (1986, 1990, 1996), and Third Team three times (1991, 1995, 1999). The 12-time All-Star was also chosen for the NBA All-Defensive First Team five times (1987-88, 1990, 1993-94) and Second Team four times (1985, 1991, 1996-97). The Texas Sports Hall of Fame inducted Olajuwon on Jan. 27, 1999.

He also stands fourth in Rockets history in scoring average and third in assists.

Olajuwon led the Rockets to the playoffs 14 times, averaging 26.6 points, 11.4 rebounds and 3.34 blocks in 140 career playoff contests. In NBA playoff history, he ranks third in blocks (472), 11th in points (3,755) and ninth in scoring average (25.9). In 1986, Olajuwon and Ralph Sampson led the Rockets to the NBA Finals. In 1994, he averaged 28.9 points and 11.0 rebounds in Houston's trek to its first NBA title. The following year, he posted averages of 33.0 points and 10.3 rebounds as the Rockets won their second consecutive NBA Championship. Olajuwon stands as the team's all-time playoff leader in postseasons played, games played, minutes, points, field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted, rebounds, assists, steals and blocks. He also ranks second in postseason scoring average.

During the 1988-89 season, Olajuwon became the first player in NBA history to reach 200 blocks and 200 steals in one year. The following season, he led the NBA with career highs of 14.0 rebounds and 4.59 blocks, standing as one of two rebounding titles and one of three blocked shots crowns. On March 29, 1990 vs. Milwaukee, he recorded a quadruple-double, marking one of 14 career triple-doubles.

In 1994, Olajuwon became the first player in league history to win the NBA MVP, Defensive Player of the Year and NBA Finals MVP in the same season. This also marked his second consecutive Defensive Player of the Year award and the first of two consecutive NBA Finals MVP awards.

Born in Nigeria, Olajuwon earned American citizenship and represented his country as a member of the gold-medal-winning 1996 United States Olympic Team. Selected to the Rockets 30-Year Team in 1998, he was also named to the Rockets All-Decade Teams of the 1980s and 1990s, and was chosen as one of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History on Oct. 29, 1996.

Rudy Tomjanovich reached the heights of success both on the court and the sidelines during three decades with the Rockets. After earning five All-Star selections as a player, "Rudy T" won the City of Houston its first-ever major championships by coaching the Rockets to back-to-back titles in 1994 and 1995.

Tomjanovich, who spent 33 consecutive seasons with the Rockets, holds the franchise record with 503 coaching wins and ranks fourth in Rockets history with 13,383 career points. He was involved in all four Rockets division titles – as leading scorer in 1976-77, assistant coach in 1985-86 and as head coach in 1992-93 and 1993-94.

Tomjanovich first joined the San Diego Rockets as the second overall pick in the 1970 NBA Draft after a storied collegiate career at the University of Michigan. The all-time leading rebounder in school history, Tomjanovich also holds the second-highest career scoring average at 25.1 points per game.

In Rockets history, Tomjanovich ranks third in career points, third in career games and fourth in career rebounds. He averaged 17.4 points and 8.1 rebounds in 768 games with the Rockets. In his 11-season career, he led the Rockets in scoring average four times and rebounding average once. In his second season, Tomjanovich averaged a career-high 11.8 rebounds with 15.0 points, as the team made its debut in Houston.

During the 1972-73 season, Tomjanovich posted team-leading averages of 19.3 points and 11.6 rebounds. He earned the first of four consecutive All-Star selections in 1974, as he led Houston and ranked seventh in the NBA with a career-high 24.5 points per game. He scored a career-high 42 points against Buffalo on Jan. 13, 1974. During the 1974-75 season, Tomjanovich led Houston with 20.7 points per game and guided the Rockets to their first-ever playoff series win. He averaged a team-leading 21.6 points for the 1976-77 Rockets and helped Houston to its first division title. Tomjanovich played only 23 games the next year, as he suffered a facial fracture on Dec. 9, 1977 versus the Lakers. Tomjanovich returned to the All-Star Game in 1979, averaging 19.0 points and 7.7 rebounds with Houston in his comeback season.

After Houston advanced to the 1981 NBA Finals, Tomjanovich retired on Oct. 2, 1981, having spent his entire playing career with the Rockets. His jersey #45 was retired on Jan. 28, 1982. In 2012, he was named to the Rockets 1970s All-Decade Team.

Beginning with the 1981-82 season, Tomjanovich spent two years as a Rockets scout. He became an assistant coach in 1983 and served in that role until being named interim head coach on Feb. 18, 1992. In the first 15 games with Tomjanovich at the helm, the Rockets responded with an 11-4 record — the best start for any coach in franchise annals.

Officially named the ninth head coach in Rockets history on May 20, 1992, Tomjanovich became the first coach in NBA history to guide his team from the lottery to a division title in his first full season. His coaching peers voted him The Sporting News NBA Coach of the Year in 1993. He was also named head coach of the Western Conference for the 1997 NBA All-Star Game and received NBA Coach of the Month recognition three times with Houston.

Tomjanovich posted a 503-397 (.559) regular season mark and 51-39 (.567) playoff record in 12 seasons with Houston, departing with franchise records for career wins and winning percentage. Tomjanovich resigned as Houston's coach following the 2002-03 season while undergoing successful treatment for bladder cancer. He was hired to coach the L.A. Lakers during the summer of 2004 before stepping aside later that season for health reasons. On the career coaching wins list, he ranks 26th all-time in NBA history with 525 victories.

Aside from his success in the NBA, Tomjanovich coached the United States Senior National Team on two occasions. He guided the United States Men's Basketball Team to a gold medal and an undefeated record in the 2000 Summer Olympics. Prior to the Olympics, Tomjanovich led a United States team of non-NBA players to a bronze medal at the 1998 World Championship of Basketball.

Tomjanovich stands fellow Basketball Hall of Famers Lenny Wilkins and the late Chuck Daly as the only people to coach teams to an NBA Championship and an Olympic gold medal. He also stands as one of eight coaches in NBA history to possess 500 career wins and multiple NBA championships.

While injuries may have shortened Yao Ming's NBA career, it did not curtail his global impact on the sport of basketball, nor the level of respect he garnered from fans, teammates, or his contemporaries.

Yao was the first overall pick by Houston in the 2002 NBA Draft. The Shanghai native became the first player drafted No. 1 who did not play collegiately in the United States.

Yao spent all nine of his seasons with the Rockets, averaging 19.0 points 9.2 rebounds and 1.89 blocks while shooting 52.4% from the floor and 83.3% from the line. He is one of nine players in NBA history with career averages of at least 19.0 points, 9.0 rebounds and 1.80 blocks (blocks became an official statistic in 1973-74).

Voted an All-Star in each of his eight seasons played, having missed 2009-10 with a foot injury, Yao broke Michael Jordan's record for the most fan votes in a single season with 2,558,278 in 2004-05. In addition, Yao was named All-NBA Second Team twice (2006-07, 2008-09) and Third Team three times (2003-04, 2005-06, 2007-08).

As a rookie in 2002-03, Yao appeared in all 82 games with 72 starts, averaging 13.5 points, 8.2 rebounds, 1.7 assists and 1.79 blocks. He finished second to Amar'e Stoudemire in voting for NBA Rookie of the Year and was selected to the NBA All-Rookie First Team. He was also the first rookie to start an All-Star Game since Grant Hill in 1995.

Over four seasons from 2005-06 through 2008-09, Yao averaged 21.9 points and 10.1 rebounds, joining Kevin Garnett as the only players to average at least 20.0 points and 10.0 rebounds during that span.

In 2006-07, Yao averaged a career-high 25.0 points along with 9.4 rebounds, 2.0 assists and 1.96 blocks. He became the 10th different player in NBA history to have averaged at least 25.0 points, 9.0 rebounds, 2.0 assists and 1.90 blocks in a single season.

Prior to joining the Rockets, Yao spent five seasons playing for his hometown Shanghai Sharks of the Chinese Basketball Association, averaging 23.4 points and 15.4 rebounds. In his final season with the Sharks in 2001-02, Yao averaged 32.6 points, 19.0 rebounds and 4.8 blocks while leading the team to its first championship.

Yao was also a member of the Chinese National Team from the age of 18. As a 19-year-old in the 2000 Olympic Games, he averaged 10.5 points and 6.0 rebounds. Yao averaged 20.7 points and a tournament-best 9.3 rebounds in the 2004 Olympics and in the 2008 Olympic Games, he ranked second among all players in scoring (19.0 ppg) and third in rebounding (8.2 rpg).

On July 20, 2011, Yao announced his retirement from the NBA after injuries forced him to miss the entire 2009-10 season and limited him to just five games played in 2010-11. He was later enshrined into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in 2016, receiving the first ever direct elect nomination from the International Committee. Yao had his No. 11 retired by the Rockets during a halftime ceremony on Feb. 3, 2017.

Following his playing career, Yao returned to China and purchased his former team, the Sharks. In 2017, he was named President of the Chinese Basketball Association.

Yao has served as a tremendous ambassador for the sport as well as a great humanitarian, through contributions made by his Yao Ming Foundation and his work with organizations like the Special Olympics. In 2008, he was named the United Nations Environment Programme's first-ever "Environmental Champion."

- Assistant Coach with Rockets under four Head Coaches (1980-96)
- Named Executive Vice President of Basketball/General Manager on July 26, 1996
- Only person on coaching staffs of all four Rockets teams to advance to NBA Finals
- Inducted into the Paris Junior College Hall of Fame in 1991
- Enshrined in the Baylor University Hall of Fame in 1998
- Entered the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 2001
- Inducted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in 2003
- Retired as General Manager after the 2006-07 season
- Honored with "Carroll Dawson Tribute Night" on April 16, 2007

Affectionately known as "CD," Carroll Dawson was honored by Houston Rockets Owner Leslie Alexander with "Carroll Dawson Tribute Night" on April 16, 2007, where a banner bearing his name was hung from the rafters of Toyota Center in honor of Dawson's 27 seasons with the Rockets organization as General Manager and as an assistant coach.

Dawson completed his 11th and final campaign as General Manager of the franchise in 2006-07. Prior to moving into the front office on July 26, 1996, Dawson worked as an assistant coach under four Rockets head coaches, aiding Del Harris from 1980-83, Bill Fitch from 1983-88, Don Chaney from 1988-92 and Rudy Tomjanovich from 1992-96.

Recognized as one of the top executives in the NBA, Dawson finished second in voting for The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year in 2006-07. As General Manager, Dawson showed the ability to both bolster a playoff contender with veterans and acquire emerging talent as part of a youth movement. In his first few years, he made trades for Charles Barkley and Scottie Pippen to give a team led by Hakeem Olajuwon even more experience. Dawson then helped the Rockets acquire several young talents in the following years, including Cuttino Mobley, Steve Francis and Yao Ming.

In the summer of 2005, Dawson worked with Alexander to sign Yao to a maximum-value contract extension. In the summer of 2004, Dawson changed the face of the franchise by obtaining one of the NBA's top players in Tracy McGrady. The two-time scoring champion was acquired from Orlando in a seven-player deal that included Francis and Mobley.

Dawson holds the distinction of being the only person on the coaching staffs of all four Rockets teams that advanced to the NBA Finals, as Houston played for a championship in 1981, 1986, 1994 and 1995. He will always be known throughout the NBA for his work with frontcourt players and was credited with teaching Olajuwon his famous jump hook. Dawson coached many NBA All-Stars during his years in Houston, including Elvin Hayes, Moses Malone, Ralph Sampson and Tomjanovich.

Dawson's knowledge of the game was not limited to the NBA. Prior to the inaugural 1997 WNBA season, Dawson was commissioned by Alexander to help assemble the first Houston Comets team. He guided the efforts to bring Sheryl Swoopes and Cynthia Cooper to Houston, and then drafted Janeth Arcain in the WNBA Elite Draft. Dawson was also instrumental in the selection of Tina Thompson with the first pick of the Inaugural WNBA Draft. Finally, he worked with Alexander to hire Naismith Hall of Famer and WNBA All-Decade Coach Van Chancellor. Dawson served as Chancellor's top advisor as the Comets Executive Vice President of Basketball from 1997-2006 and helped craft the four-time WNBA Champions (1997-2000).

A native Texan, Dawson hails from Alba, a town with a population of 200 that sits about 75 miles east of Dallas. As a 6-foot-5 high school center, he led Alba High School to a 44-3 record as a senior. He then went on to win Junior College All-America honors at Paris Junior College (Texas) under Head Coach Boyd Converse. After two seasons at Paris, Dawson moved on to Baylor University, where he led Bill Henderson's Baylor Bears in scoring and rebounding in each of his two seasons. In 1960, he averaged 16.4 points as a senior to earn All-Southwest Conference honors.

In 1963, he returned to Baylor as an assistant to Head Coach Bill Menefee. He later succeeded Menefee as head coach in 1973, remaining in that position for more than three seasons. After spending two years as a scout for the Dallas Cowboys at the call of executive Gil Brandt, Dawson started a career as a salesman for Converse Shoe Company.

Dawson has been honored with induction into the Paris Junior College Hall of Fame in 1991, the Baylor University Hall of Fame in 1998, the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 2001, and the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in 2003. He was also named Mr. Sportsman 2005 by Interfaith Charities in Houston. In 2010, Dawson was honored as a Baylor Basketball Legend by the 'B' Association. In addition, he was named the President of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.
